Southwest Colorado POINTS OF INTEREST

Black Canyon
MONTROSE—Just 5 miles out of Montrose, the Black Canyon of Gunnison's unique and spectacular landscape was formed slowly by the action of water and rock scouring down through hard Proterozoic crystalline rock. No other canyon in North America combines the narrow opening, sheer walls and startling depths offered by the Black Canyon of the Gunnison. Operating Hours and Seasons: South Rim: Open every day, limited access in winter. The South Rim road is open from mid-April to mid-October. North Rim: Open every day, North Rim Road and ranger station are closed in winter. 970-249-1914 x423

Mesa Verde
CORTÉZ—Spanish for "green table", offers an unparalleled opportunity to see and experience a unique cultural and physical landscape. The culture represented at Mesa Verde reflects more than 700 years of history. The archeological cliff dwelling sites found in Mesa Verde are some of the most notable and best preserved in the United States. Mesa Verde National Park offers visitors a spectacular look into the lives of the Ancestral Pueblo people. To fully enjoy Mesa Verde National Park, plan to spend a day or two exploring its world-class archeological sites as well as its beautiful landscape. The entrance to the park is 9 miles east of Cortez and 35 miles west of Durango in Southwestern Colorado on US Highway 160. 800-449-2288

Anasazi Heritage Center
DOLORES—An archeological museum that displays and preserves artifacts and records from excavations on public lands in the Four Corners area, one of the richest archeological regions in the United States. The museum is also the headquarters for Canyons of the Ancients National Monument. The museum features permanent displays on the Ancestral Pueblo people, many of them being hands-on and interactive. The grounds contain two 12th century ruins, the Dominguez and Escalante Pueblos. Open 9 a.m.-5 p.m., March-October; 10 a.m.-4 p.m., November-February. Admission $3 for adults, 17 and under are free. 27501 Hwy. 184, Dolores, CO. Call 970-882-5600 for more information.

Ute Indian Museum
MONTROSE—The museum lies on the original 8.65-acre homestead owned by Chief Ouray and his wife, Chipeta. Built in 1956 and expanded in 1998, the museum offers one of the most complete collections of the Ute people. The grounds include the Chief Ouray Memorial park, Chipeta's Crypt, and a native plants garden. Recently renovated and expanded, the museum now includes the Montrose Visitor Information Center, gallery space, classrooms and a museum store. Open Tuesday-Saturday 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Admission: adults $4.50, seniors $4, students or kids (6-16) $1.50, kids under 6 are free. Call 970-249-3098 for further information.

Sand Dunes National Park
ALAMOSA—Located 35 miles northeast of Alamosa, North America's tallest dunes rise over 750 feet high against the rugged Sangre de Cristo Mountains. This geologic wonderland, containing 30 square miles of dunes, became a national monument in 1932. The park resources also include alpine lakes and tundra, six peaks over 13,000' in elevation, ancient spruce and pine forests, large stands of aspen and cottonwood, grasslands, and wetlands—all habitats for diverse wildlife and plant species. Open year-round. 719-378-6399

Canyons of the Ancients National Monument
DOLORES—Canyons of the Ancients National Monument was designated in June of 2000. The Monument contains the highest concentration of archeological sites in the nation. These sites represent cultures and traditions spanning thousands of years. Brochures and information about places to visit in the Monument are available at the Anasazi Heritage Center. Four areas have been somewhat modified for the public access: Lowry Pueblo, Painted Hand Pueblo, Sand Canyon Pueblo, and the Sand Canyon Trail. These areas are accessible from maintained county roads, but go to the Anasazi Heritage Center first to get maps, brochures, and current information about places to visit, some roads can be impassible when wet. For more information, call 970-882-5600, or visit the Monument's website at www.co.blm.gov/canm or the Center's website at www.co.blm.gov/ahc.

Pagosa Hot Springs
PAGOSA SPRINGS—The Ute Indians called the springs "Pah gosah", a term translated in recent years as meaning "boiling water" or "healing water". However, a Ute elder once suggested that a more accurate translation would be "water that has a strong smell". The "strong smell" of the Great Pagosa Hot Springs derives from its remarkably high mineral content which many believe gives the water its naturally therapeutic value. Call the Spring Inn Resort, which now owns the springs, for prices and hours at 800-225-0934.
